Rule 215(1)(A)-(B):

Operational flexibility changes are those changes that do not require a PTI, have no effect on the process, and do not increase or affect the nature of emissions. Operational flexibility changes cannot exceed any emission limit or violate any condition required by an applicable requirement.

Rule 215(2):

Inter-facility emission trading changes involve emissions trading between two or more stationary sources. Under Rule 215(2), inter-facility emission trading changes to a stationary source would be allowed without revision to the existing ROP if the source participated in a federally approved emissions trading program and if the ROP had a condition that allows for such a change.

Rule 215(3):

Under Rule 215(3), a change can be made "off-permit" (without revision to the ROP until permit renewal) at a stationary source if it does not conflict with or is not prohibited by an existing ROP for that source, provided: The change complies with all applicable requirements; The change is not a major New Source Review (NSR) modification; and If the source is an affected source under the Title IV acid rain provisions, the change is not contrary to any applicable requirements of Title IV.

Rule 215(4):

Is for an insignificant change which does not require a notification submittal.

Rule 215(5):

A notification shall be made to the department upon a change of responsible official or other contact person identified in the application for the renewable operating permit, including the address, name, email and phone number.
